there are great differences between the oral use of figurative language and its written use nevertheless the only separately published textbook for figurative language is almost entirely concerned with oral figurative language offering such examples as you have a heart of stone or you make my blood boil much if not most oral language consists of long repetitious portions of cliché and platitude and not surprisingly the figurative language used follows the same pattern writing teachers generally ask their students not to use clichés and platitudes even though they may mistakenly i think advise students to write like you speak

this collection brings together for the first time select works in english by the major swedish modernist poet and critic goran printz pahlson it was printz pahlson who introduced poetic modernism to scandinavia and his essays and poems delve deeply into english american and continental modernist traditions as well as letters of blood the collection includes the full text of the words of the tribe a major statement on modern poetics in which printz pahlson explores the significance of primitivism in romanticism and modernism and the nature of metaphor and literary materialism the collection also includes essays on style irony realism and the relationship between historical drama and historical fiction as well as studies of american poetry printz pahlson s poetry in english continues to explore these themes by different often surprisingly innovative means minor edits to this book have been made in may 2016 the invocation of blood as both an image and a concept has long been critical in the formation of american racism in blood work shawn salvant mines works from the american literary canon to explore the multitude of associations that race and blood held in the consciousness of late nineteenth and early twentieth century americans drawing upon race and metaphor theory salvant provides readings of four classic novels featuring themes of racial identity mark twain s pudd nhead wilson 1894 pauline hopkins s of one blood 1902 frances harper s iola leroy 1892 and william faulkner s light in august 1932 his expansive analysis of blood imagery uncovers far more than the merely biological connotations that dominate many studies of blood rhetoric the racial discourses of blood in these novels encompass the anthropological and the legal the violent and the religious penetrating and insightful blood work illuminates the broad ranging power of the blood metaphor to script distinctly american plots real and literary of racial identity
